The Occult Diaries of
R. Ogilvie Crombie
by Gordon Lindsay

Throughout his 75 year life, and especially in his later years, R. Ogilvie Crombie (ROC for short) had many truly remarkable experiences of an other-worldly nature. By good fortune, he committed an account of most of these to paper, and many of these are included in this book.

From his private diaries, it quickly becomes obvious that Ogilvie was certainly no ordinary gentleman. ROC could legitimately lay claim to being a magician and functioned as mediator between the alienated elemental beings of the nature kingdoms and mankind, successfully bringing together these two diverging streams.

For many, the material in this book will no doubt receive outright rejection — and that is totally understandable. Mind-boggling as this material may be, this book asserts that Ogilvie honestly reported the events as they happened to him. It has, admittedly, taken the author some 35 years to reach this understanding and to write this book but it is now here for you to reach your own conclusions.

Memoirs of an Ordinary Mystic

by Dorothy Maclean

Dorothy Maclean may call herself an “ordinary mystic” but in fact she has had an extraordinary life with an equally extraordinary impact. This outstanding memoir tells the exciting story of her journey from being part of the British secret service during World War II to co-founding the fabled Findhorn Foundation spiritual community in northern Scotland and subsequently becoming a spiritual teacher much in demand around the world for her down-to-earth insights and wisdom. Her work with the inner forces of nature is of seminal importance in our age of global climate change and environmental challenge, offering hope for our future. I cannot recommend this book highly enough; told with honesty and modesty, it is the record of one of the most significant and loving spiritual figures of our time.

Dorothy Maclean is one of the three founders of the Findhorn Community in Scotland. Following her inner contact with the Divine she came to communicate with the devic or angelic realms that over-light all aspects of existence. The success and subsequent fame of the Findhorn gardens arose in part from Dorothy’s telepathic contact with these kingdoms. Subsequent to her work at Findhorn she traveled the world giving workshops and talks about her own inner practices and attunement to the Beloved. She now has returned to live with the Findhorn community. Many of the messages she received are included in these books. Their simple wisdom cannot fail to quicken an awareness of our birthright as conscious partners with all the evolutionary streams of life.

Wisdoms by Dorothy Maclean

In 1954, after earlier having the wonderful experience of knowing that God was within, Dorothy Maclean was asked from within to “Stop, listen and write.” When she eventually did this, she received inspiring experiences which she put into words and wrote down. These became the pole star of her life, and gave her the help, training, joy and love which she needed for any situation. The contents of this book, one hundred messages chosen from June 1970 to December 1971, have been slightly edited for republication. Stories of Healing:

A Family Doctor's Journal
by Robert A. Anderson, MD

“This book is a treasure which needs to be read by everyone so that they understand our potential and self empowerment abilities when confronting illness and the health care system. Healing and survival are due not to miracles or spontaneous remissions but to self induced healing. When patients do well they always have a story to tell about their lifestyle changes and their body’s response to a new life filled with love and joy. In the future we will be studying the healing energy potential in each of us as our minds open and we accept experience as our teacher and medical professionals stop refusing to accept what they cannot explain. Wounds heal and diseases are overcome by the wisdom of our bodies. Doctors need to teach patients how to exceed expectations; this book makes it clear what is possible when we assume responsibility and participate in our care and stop being submissive, suffering patients.”

A Country Where All Colors Are Sacred and Alive: A Memoir of Non-Ordinary Experience and Collaboration with Nature

by Geoffrey Oelsner

This memoir is an account of Geoffrey Oelsner's continuing education with experiences that defy rational explanation, but point toward a more holistic, interconnected Reality than we normally perceive.. It sets forth a vision of our intimate relationship with Nature, and offers scientific evidence as well as personal anecdotes supportive of the thesis that we can influence the natural world positively through attunement, meditation, prayer, intention, loving presence, mindful ritual, celebration, song, dance, and other expressions of joyful creativity.

Geoffrey Oelsner has been actively addressing community health and environmental issues for thirty-five years now, as a community organizer in Georgia and Arkansas; while engaged with others in anti-nuclear research and activism; as co-author of a book about natural forms of radiation protection; and most recently working to alert the public and public health officials to the environmental hazards of "fracking" for subterranean natural gas deposits. He is convinced that we can help sustain and restore environmental harmony through our loving interactions with the natural world in a way that complements such necessary and important political work.

In My Name

The Vintage Best of The New Troubadours

New CD of 16 remastered songs by David Spangler and his Lorian musical colleagues, recorded 1972-1980. For more information go to www.newtroubadours.com. $15.00. Comes packaged in a full color 4-panel eco-friendly foldout cardboard jacket.

The New Troubadours was a musical band formed by David Spangler and his friends during their days in Findhorn, Scotland. These beautiful and varied recordings, made in the 1970s, capture the spirit and creativity of those times, and are resonant with the spiritual values that accompanied the birth of Lorian. Specially compiled by our friend Mike Scott, this 16-song compilation features all the best loved New Troubadours songs for the first time ever on CD, all original recordings by the classic line up of David Spangler and Kathi Lightstone (lead vocals), Milenko Matanovic (guitar), Lark Batteau (guitar, vocals), Jewels Manchester (vocals) and Jim Bronson (double bass). This collection will be treasured by anyone who has ever enjoyed the songs of The New Troubadours, or who wishes to experience the early Lorian philosophy in musical form.
