

About the Lyrics by David Spangler

These lyrics from the five new songs by Jamee Mae Kyson were written in the early 1970's by David Spangler. At that time he was co-director of the famous Findhorn Community in Scotland. These lyrics were originally put to music by Milenko Matonivic of the New Troubadours of which David Spangler was a part. Jamee Mae has created entirely new music for these beloved lyrics. Minor changes have also been made by David to update some of the language.

Rainbows in the Sun

The world about takes many forms
But behind them there is One.
A rainbow's hues are also born
From many droplets filled
With just one light,
A light that comes from just one sun.

Give me rainbows in the sun.
Give me peace when the day is done.
Give me love to fill my soul.
Teach me to be whole.

When you can see the light in all,
The life of the inner One;
When you can see into the Whole
And know that oneness deep
Within all things,
Then you see rainbows in the sun.

Give me rainbows in the sun.
Give me peace when the day is done.
Give me love to fill my soul.
Teach me to be whole.

I am a man of many parts,
A fragment caught in time.
Now is the time to make a start
To find that oneness deep
Within myself,
The wholeness that I know is mine.

Give me rainbows in the sun.
Give me peace when the day is done.
Give me love to fill my soul.
Teach me to be whole.

Rainbows are for ev'ryman
To know the whole day through.
I have rainbows when I can
Reveal that oneness deep
Within myself,
The love uniting me and you!

Then I have rainbows in the sun.
I have peace when the day is done.
Love for all then fills my soul
When I learn to be whole.

Children of the Dawning

I'll travel in the morning with the wind upon my back,
For that is when the earth is being born,
And the morning star is shining with a cool and crystal light,
Calling to the children of the morn.

Come with me, children of the dawning!
Come with me to a newer world that morning eyes can see.
Let the past find its way, this is no time to mourn,
The crystal path is calling to the children of the morn.

I'll travel in the darkness of a history-shadowed night.
To everyone I find I'll sing a warning
That the night is but a seedling of a dawn that is to come.
Are you ready for the children of the morning?

Can you rise and travel with the morning?
Can you walk to a newer world beyond the world you know?
If you can, come with me, that morning star has shone,
And we must learn to travel with the children of the morn.

We'll travel all together when the dew is on the land
And all the world is fresh from being born,
And the morning star is shining with the promise of our lives
And we know that we're the children of the morning!

Come with me, children of the dawning!
Come with me to a newer world that morning eyes can see.
For the morning star is shining, a world is being born
From the light of all the children of the morning!
Come with me, children of the dawning.

Beyond The Dawn

When the night stars fade
And the moon pales,
When the sky is blushed
With the sun's first rays,
Sing, Man, that the Dawn is near,
Sing, Man, that the Dawn is near.

As the light grows
And the flaming sun
Rises o'er
The horizon,
Sing, Man, that the Dawn is come,
Sing, Man, that the Dawn is come.

But when light chases
The shadows of the Dawn,
And you see your inner Light,
Unending,
Unshadowed,
Then know that there is no Dawn,
For there is no night
Within your soul.
Beyond the Dawn is where you must go.

Go, Man, beyond the Dawn!
Sing, Man, beyond the Dawn!
Beyond the Dawn,
Beyond!

Homeland

Home. . .Home. . .
Where is my home?
Where is the land where I am whole?
Turn left or right?
Daylight or night?
Where is the path to my goal?

I am the Home,
I sing in your heart.
Search not for me, for we're not apart.
Know we are one.
Always we are one.
I am the truth in your soul.

Truth is the path,
The path to your home.
Know thyself within the Whole.
You are divine, Born beyond time.
Dance in the land of your soul.

Come, dance with me.
Dance and be free!
Dance the wholeness that we once knew.
I am the Path.
Be thou the Path.
I am the God that is you.

Dawn Chorus

Rise,

Rise with the sun,
Rise with the song it sings,
Rise with the dawning life about to start!

Morning comes and I greet the dawn,
I'll take the day as it comes along,
Yesterday has been and gone,
I'm spreading my wings today!

I'll not be caught in my history,
The past shall have no hold on me,
Exploring a new possibility,
I'm making a brand new day!

Love,

Loving the dawn,
Loving the day it brings,
Loving the sunrise in my heart.

Rise,

Rise with the sun,
Rise with the song it sings,
Rise with the dawning life about to start.

Fling the covers of the night,
Greet the new day, spirits bright,
Everything's going to be just right,
I'm making a brand new day.
